Additional comments

- Thanks your very much.
- A great Study Visit with all aims set, achieved! Well done to the Organisers!
- Thank you
- Since the study visit was online it wasn't as affective as it would have been had we met in person. The time difference and working online was very challenging.
- Online activities were very much unsatisfactory. SOmetimes we didn't knew what we are suppose to do. It would have been better if we had postponed it and do it physically as there was too much confusion. And all the activities felt rushed. (For instance we are still not clear if the templates are to be filled by individual partner or country). Coherence was lacking. Hope it will improve during future project activities

- I think this virtual study visit is well-organize even though it is a bit difficult for Cambodian to adjust the timing. It is a bit late at night time. Overall, I like the coordination of this study visit in Portugal.
- Please upload the slides from guest speaker
- We can have more of these sessions, at least once per month for this purpose, with this schedule, even not for 3 days.
- While the University of Aveiro did a great job with the organization of the study trip and was very helpful with the whole Organization, transferring the study visit online totally missed its objectives and aim. Maybe you can transfer a meeting online, but the purpose of the study visit cannot fulfilled online. For me, an online study visit totally missed its point. There are some boundaries what can be organized online and what not.
- It better to conduct the future meeting/online discussion from 09h00 to 12h00 for European partners. It is terrible for to stay very late in the evening for partner from Asia.
